successful Inland Empire Attorney/Mediator/Arbitrator/Collaborative Law Professional not only spiritual and material gratification, but also recognition and respect in her professional and personal life.

Soheila Azizi has been a practicing attorney in the Los Angeles and Inland Empire areas since 1993. The focus of Azizi's law practice is on advocating justice, whether it is through zealous representation of the client's cause in court, or by resorting to alternative out-of-court resolution methods, such as mediation, collaborative approach to resolution and/or arbitration.

Azizi's practice covers many areas of emphasis, including: Family Law, Child Custody, Child Visitation, Child Support, Divorce, Spousal Support, Adoption, Guardianships/Conservatorships, Hospital Injuries, Personal Injury, Serious Injuries and Accidents, Wrongful Death, Elder Abuse, Professional Malpractice and Legal and Medical Malpractice.

As a community activist and humanitarian, Azizi dedicates her time to causes with lofty aspirations of promoting peace, justice, unity, race and gender equality. Azizi has served her community in various capacities. She is a co-founder and board member of the Women on the Move Network. She has also served as a board member of the Community Partnership for Youth Development, focusing on education and empowerment of the junior youth. Azizi is a co-founder and past president of the Upland Interfaith Council. She was also a board member of the Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of Upland, and a member of the Board of Visitors and the President's Circle at the University of La Verne College of Law.

Azizi volunteers her time as a certified temporary judge and as a fee arbitrator for the Mandatory Fee Arbitration Program appointed by The State Bar of California. Azizi is also a Mediator for the local courts through the Inland Valley Justice Center, and for R.D.O.C.S., her newly established private mediation practice. She has received numerous awards for her exemplary work and community service.

Azizi's sincerity of heart, clarity of purpose, commitment to excellence and adherence to the highest codes of ethics, has gained her a high standing amongst the most dignified professionals in the local and distant communities.
