Prior to joining the Law Offices of Jeffrey S. Raynes, Erickson spent 22 years as a member of Lafollette, Johnson, Dehaas, Fesler & Ames (16 years as a partner and 11 years as the managing partner of the Inland Empire office in Riverside), where his practice was wholly dedicated to the defense of physicians in medical malpractice actions. During his tenure at Lafollette, Erickson developed a strong reputation as an effective trial lawyer and an ethical member of the legal community. He has successfully defended physicians in more than one hundred trials and arbitrations, and has successfully resolved hundreds more in settlement on behalf of hospitals and physicians throughout California. Having represented physicians for more than two decades, Erickson is an invaluable asset to his firm and its clients. He understands how defense attorneys and insurance carriers prepare and defend their cases, and the limitations they face.

Erickson was born and raised in Alberta, Canada. His love of golf eventually overcame his love of hockey, so today, he finds himself enamored with life in sunny Southern California. He is an active member of the Mormon community and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Redlands. He considers his faith and his family to be the cornerstones of his life. He lives in Yucaipa with his wife of nearly thirty years, Diane, and they enjoy spending time with their four children.
